Mr. Ana Miah gained 6 Certificates of Secondary School Education and then went onto attaining 2 O'levels in English and Geography. In 1980, he decided to leave mainstream education due to economic reasons and instead, entered a life of full-time work in an Indian Restaurant called Royal Bengal in Birmingham. Two years later Mr. Ana Miah opened up his first business. This was a family restaurant, which was located in Sudbury Hill and called Sudbury Tandoori. Afterwards in 1989, a decision was made to move to Cardiff. During that year Mr. Miah opened his second restaurant, Jubora in Rhiwbina, Cardiff. Since, the restaurant has been a massive success, so immense in fact that Mr. Ana Miah owns six different Branches of Jubora, four in Cardiff, one in Swansea and one in Newport. Beside managing his six restaurants, he is the Director of Trust Exchange UK Ltd.

Mr. Ana Miah is much involved with various community and charity organisations. He is the Co-Founder of the Nationwide Association for Integrated Development, in which he helps the underprivileged people in the UK and in Bangladesh. He has helped by raising thousands of pounds from holding charity events such as charity dinners and charity golf days in his many restaurants, to help both local causes and international ones.

Furthermore, Mr. Miah is a member of Lianishen, executive member of Rotary Club in Cardiff and the current Catering Affairs Secretary of Bangladesh Association, Cardiff. Furthermore, he is a parent governor of Hawthorn Infant School, the General Secretary of Cardiff North Gabalfa Bangla School, the Fundraising Co-ordinator for recent cyclone Sidr victims and the Ex-General Secretary of Shahjalal Mosque and Islamic Cultural Centre to name a few. Mr. Miah has helped and continues to help those who are in need as well as his community. Throughout the years he has contributed by raising huge sums of money for differing charities and causes.

Mr. Ana Miah is married to Mrs Parbin Sultana. The couple have three sons. Their Eldest son is Abul Kaher Tanvir Miah and is sixteen. After him it is fourteen-year-old Abul Ahnaf Tahmid Miah and their youngest child is Abul Ahmed Tamjid Miah who is eleven. They reside in the family home in Cardiff.
